

Simmons Awards 2019

Harvard Center for Biological Imaging

The Harvard Center for Biological Imaging is pleased to announce the 2019 Simmons Awards call for proposals. This is a funding opportunity for all Harvard graduate students made possible by generous funding from Dr. and Mrs. Daniel Simmons. The grants are to be used to fund the usage of microscopy systems within the HCBI and will run through the 2019-2020 academic year. Available funding will be divided among the applicants.

Please submit this application form (not to exceed the visible portion of the text boxes) to (hcbi_admin@fas.harvard.edu) by Wednesday August 28th, 2019.

All grantees will be expected to participate in a poster session/symposium in the spring/summer of 2020.
